MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

(By The Governor.)
Each year as Memorial Day comes around, we are glad to pay homage to the brave men, living and dead, who, by their splendid achievements nearly six decades ago, saved this nation from disruption. Their heroic deeds will never die. Their memories will be cherished while the Republic last; for in the hour of their country's needs they left their homes and loved ones and went forth to battle for the life of the Union. Our debt to them can never be paid, but it is our high privilege to hold these men and their achievements in lasting remembrance and honor.

Again, two years ago, our free institutions and our national ideals were menaced by a fierce and powerful foe. Our young men betook themselves in thousands to the training camps and later crossed the seas to uphold on foreign soil the honor of the flag. With a fortitude and a valor befitting the sons and the grandsons of those patriots of an earlier day, they grandly bore their part in the struggle. Now they are coming back to us, but not all; and through our proud joy today as we greet the returning hosts, there runs a note of sadness. We mourn with those who mourn for the noble fellows who will not come back to us. God help us all to live, so to keep and guard our birth-right of true freedom, that we may be worthy of the great sacrifice they made for us.

Therefore, that we may pay a tribute of respect and esteem to the surviving veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and the recent World War, and honor the memory of the men who gave up their lives in all these wars, I, ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby issue this my Proclamation and sincerely urge the observance of Friday, May 30th, 1919, as Memorial Day.

And I earnestly appeal to the people of Michigan for hearty co-operation in plans for the observance of the day in their respective communities and for special provision of the year for the comfort and convenience of the old soldiers. Age is telling on them physically but the same undaunted spirit is there as of yore. On that day flags should be displayed at half-staff until noon, and then hoisted to the top of the staff.

Dated May 19, 1919.

Albert E. Sleeper, Governor.

BODIES OF HEROES

WILL BE RETURNED.

WHEN REQUESTED, GOVERNMENT WILL ATTEND TO EXHUMATION.

When requested to do so by relatives, the United States government will exhume the bodies of soldiers who died abroad and at federal expense return them to this country, according to a letter received Monday by Mayor Couzens of Detroit from representative Charles A. Nichols.

No action to this effect, however, will be taken until after the signing of the treaty of peace. An appropriation has already been asked for in the house of representatives.

Approximately 70,000 American soldiers have died on foreign soil. Many of the relatives of these men have requested that their bodies be allowed to remain in the localities where they died. This request will be complied with.

In the countries where these American heroes lie exhumation is forbidden by law, and it will be necessary for the war department to make general arrangements covering all cases before the bodies of any of the men can be sent home.

Those who desire the return of the bodies of relatives should address the quartermaster general, room 1030, Munitions building, Washington, D. C., giving soldier's name, company and regiment, date of death and also full name and address of applicant.

An examination to test for a trip to the Boy's state fair school in Detroit, September 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, 1919 will be held at the time of the eighth grade examination, May 28 and 29. The questions are based on farm problems. M. Hoyt, Commissioner.

KINDERGARTEN HELPS FOR PARENTS

THINGS TO MAKE OUT OF NEWSPAPERS.

(By Mrs. Louise H. Peck.)

Kindergarten lessons may be taught with simple material found in every home if only the mother possesses with the play spirit, the idea of working toward perfection in every smallest thing. Never discourage any effort, no matter how crude, but remark: "You have worked well, and next time your work will look even better." If possible, do the work yourself first, alone, so that you may explain it clearly when working with the child. Never take a child's work to show him how to do it. Show him with another piece. His work is strictly his own.

The following suggestions are for children of all ages, from four-year-olds to grown-ups, and it is much more fun when different ages work together. For our fun, we need only four prepared paste, and the newspapers which have been folded carefully away, waiting for us all this long time.

Chains: Cut the white margins from several newspapers, very straight and all the same width. Then cut these in strips five inches long, all exactly the same length and with ends cut straight. Take one strip and paste ends evenly together to form a ring, holding for a moment until the paste catches. Slip another strip through this ring, paste the ends as before, and now we have two rings one linked within the other. Go on in this way until a long chain has been made. Sometimes brown wrapping paper strips may be alternated with the white newspaper strips. Later, make chains that will teach numbers: one brown, one white, two brown, one white; three brown, two white; using all kinds of combinations.

Don't cut the strips for the children. The preparation of their own material is a wonderful part of the lesson.

When several long chains have been made, they may be swung to music or singing, or used as a jumping rope, swung back and forth slowly but not over the head.

Pussy Chains: These are also made from evenly cut margins, and in as long strips as possible. Lay the ends of two strips across each other at right angles, and paste together. Fold the under strip over across the pasted end of the upper strip, but do not paste. Keep on folding one strip over the other at exact right angles until they are used up. Paste on other strips to make the chain longer, and paste ends together to finish.

These chains are pretty made of two colors, and may be used as decorations for a Christmas tree or as a rope for jumping or to hang on the wall.

Paper Sticks: Now let us make some paper sticks for laying patterns or pictures on the table as we would with toothpicks. Cut a strip from the white margin or from the printed paper, half an inch wide and twelve inches long. Dip one corner of one end in water and begin to roll tightly at a slant. Keep on rolling tightly, holding the strip with the right hand while the left hand and roll the strip. When completely rolled into a paper stick of five or six inches, hold firmly and fold over the end. No paste is needed. This makes the old-fashioned lamp-lighter or spill. Illustrated newspaper sheets make pretty variegated sticks.

When fifty or more of these sticks have been made, use them for laying pictures of houses, trees, fences and other objects. Sometimes we bend the sticks for roofs, curves and corners. It the child wishes to keep a picture, have him make a penciled drawing of it in a scrapbook prepared of smooth wrapping paper. All kinds of geometric figures may be made with paper sticks: oblongs, squares, circles, triangles and so on.

The bent sticks are kept in one box the straight ones in another. In still another box we have all kinds of queerly bent paper sticks. These are our jackstraws, and we make our stand for lifting the sticks, from a longer strip of rolled paper, bent at the small end to make the hook.

Paper pipes: These are made of whole sheets of newspaper, rolled into long loose cylinders, measuring three or four inches across the end, the ends being folded or bent tightly in toward the centre to keep the pipe from unravelling. To make water pipes, slip the end of one into the end of another, and lay as many as are desired, following the mopboards or anywhere else about the room.

These rolled sheets may be stood on end for a stockade fence, or placed across each other to build a log house. Stepping stones: Flat sheets of paper placed on the floor, a long step apart, make good stepping stones over a running brook, the floor being the "water." Care must be taken to step straight and squarely on the paper to avoid slipping. The game is a fine one for developing quick balance. Sometimes we play "Eliza crossing the ice" with the dolls held tightly in our arms.

Castles: Roll doubled sheets of newspaper into cylinders, big short ones, and big high ones. Look at some good castle picture and see how to pin the cylinder towers together, with long balconies. Good draw-bridges and portcullis may be made by skilful fingers, also a moat from brown paper. The growing castle in the corner of the room has been known to make a whole family study pictured castles as never before, and when everyone helps in the building, there is more than a castle being built.

Help to reach all the parents of the country by cutting this out and passing it on to a friend.

Grow Wheat in Western Canada

One Crop Often Pays for the Land

Western Canada offers the greatest advantages to home seekers. Large profits are assured. You can buy on easy payment terms. Fertile Land at $15 to $30 per Acre—land similar to that which through many years has averaged from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of cases are on record where in Western Canada a single crop has paid the cost of land and production. The Government of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising. Though Western Canada offers land at such low prices, the high prices of grain, cattle, sheep and hogs will remain. Loans for the purchase of stock may be had at low interest; there are good shipping facilities; best of market free schools; churches; splendid climate; low taxation (none on improvements). NOT QUITE TO HIS TASTE

Hunter Liked Bear, All Right, but That Particular One Was Not Done Enough.

Blenkins once joined a bear-hunting expedition. During the hunt, as he was resting by the side of a rock and talking with another hunter he began swanking heavily. "If there's anything I do not like is bear. A slice of bear steak nicely done is just perfect," he said. "Well," said his companion looking up, "I'm hanged if there isn't a bear now!"

The man who "doted on bear" looked up, saw an immense grizzly on the top of the rock, gave a yell and leaped into the woods and disappeared. His companion soon overtook him and said to the fugitive as he came up: "I thought you liked bear?" "Well, I do," said the runaway; "but that one wasn't done enough."—London Tit-Bits.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do. Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

A New Danish Harbor.

It is reported from Copenhagen that a new harbor is to be constructed at Korsor, which is a Danish seaport 60 miles west-southwest of Copenhagen. The cost of this work is estimated at 80,000,000 kroner and it is stated that American capital has been interested. The harbor will have a depth of ten meters as against nine meters in Copenhagen and large quays will be built with ample facilities for handling merchandise.—Scientific American.

A Defunct Critic.

"What is that tune the band is playing?" inquired the visitor from abroad. "Johnny, Get Your Gun!" Don't you approve of it?"

"Oh, yes. Every nation must be the judge of its own literature. I have no doubt it is very excellent poetry. But isn't it rather reckless advice?"

The Game of Living

By S. B. HACKLEY

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Robert Bickley paused in his leisurely walk down Broadway street and seated himself on one of the imposing stone steps of the church on the corner.

"I've got to rest a minute," he said half aloud, fanning himself slowly with his straw hat. "It doesn't take much exertion to use a fellow up when he's only three days out of the hospital—but it's glorious to be out again! John says it's pretty quiet on my beat—me for duty in a couple of so days now!"

A pretty young girl came out of the church and paused a half moment uncertainly on the upper step. The young man, in his swift, involuntary glance, felt his heart leap. He rose hastily and stepped aside. She started down the steps, but her eyes were misty from crying; she stumbled, missing a step. Bickley caught her full in his arms as she fell.

"Thank you—oh, thank you!" she faltered as she stood erect. "I was very awkward!"

She passed on down the street, but he had seen despair in the eyes she raised to him. He looked after her with a strange constriction of the heart.

"That was my girl!" he said to himself as he walked slowly back the other way. "And I don't even know her name or where she is going! And oh, good Lord, she looked like she wanted to die!"

A month before, the old insurance man for whom Hester Moran worked had died—the city was overcrowded with workers—the girl had not found another job. On this Sunday she had shrunk from going to the little church she regularly attended, and so had gone to a big strange one; but in this great church it seemed to the little stenographer every one was rich in lands and money; there were but two pennies left in her purse, and after Tuesday night, her rent would be due. No money, no work, and nowhere to go.

With despairing bitterness in her soul, Hester had risen and slipped out of the church.

"I'll try again tomorrow and Tuesday," she said to herself—"perhaps Wednesday—then—"

Monday and Tuesday were one continuous tramp. She had asked for work at everything she could do, only to be turned down everywhere. In the dusk of Wednesday she stood in the lobby of a great office building, resolved to make one last try. "Stenographer wanted," the slip of paper she held in her hand read, "Room 909."

The stylish, elderly man into whose office she was admitted gave one look at the newcomer, and turned to the six girls waiting to talk with him about the job.

"No use waiting," he flung at them. "I can see none of you will do."

With a gallant air he set a chair for Hester in his inner office and drew his own big chair close up beside it.

"You'll suit me to a 'T,' duckie," he remarked. "I've been looking for something like you, and I can see with one eye you're a live wire."

Sickened, Hester edged her chair away.

"How much does the place pay?" she asked.

"Five dollars at first!"

"But I—a girl can't live on that!"

"Who expects you to, sweetest? A looker like you doesn't have to live on $5. Why, you might get as much as twenty a week if we hit it off together. That's what my last stenographer got."

He reached over and squeezed her hand. Hester rose, her cheeks aflame with helpless wrath.

"That's the last insult I'll ever receive," she assured herself when she was in the street again, "the very last."

The smell of the bakery's fresh rolls sickened her hungry stomach, empty since her breakfast of crackers. At the foot of the stairs that led to her room she paused tempted to borrow a slice of bread from her landlady, but she clutched her hands and climbed the steps.

"I won't be hungry very long," she thought.

It was close on midnight when she crept out to the park, where the strong tide beat against the sea wall. The night was warm and sultry, but the girl shivered as she crouched on a park bench.

"I've got nobody," she defended herself to conscience; "nobody to care."

But as she spoke, there floated before her excited brain the face of the young man who had saved her from falling at the church steps.

"He'd never hurt a woman," she thought.

How Flowers Were Named. The daisy (as Chaucer has it) "the eye of day"—i. e., the sun; the sunflower is named from its rays of sunshine, yellow. There is also the moonflower. The geranium is the crane's bill, the Greek word for a crane's bill, the crane. From the form of the leaf of the dandelion (French dent de lion, lion's tooth).

Pimpri, a corrupt form of "bipin" (Latin bis and pinna), is the double-winged flower. From their properties, mostly medicinal, are named narcissus (narcotic), nasturtium (nose twister), honeysuckle and lavender (used to scent linen fresh from the laundry).

Thirty Days in February. In traveling around the world a day has to be added or thrown overboard, according to the direction you are going. The adjustment is invariably made when crossing the 180th meridian, almost midway between Japan and California, so a vessel on the spot on February 29, in a leap year, must accordingly have a February 30. In point of fact February 30 does appear in the Passport Ban is Lifted.

Washington.—After June 15 the inhibition against granting passports to wives or mothers of American officers and enlisted men who may wish to go to Europe will be removed, says the State Department. Passports will be issued if such officers or men are not about to return to this country, but wives and mothers who take advantage of this opportunity will not be able to return to the United States within six months, to prevent ship crowding.

Detroit is the permanent annual meeting place. The 125th is the first veteran organization of the 32d division. It already has 2,849 members and locals in every county in Michigan.

NOT ALL IMPRESSED ALIKE

Curious to Note the Different Behavior of Animals in the Vicinity of War's Alarms.

Some interesting notes have been made in regard to the behavior of various animals under the terrific conditions of noise, vibration, explosion and other disturbances at the front. Thus it seems clear that some kinds of birds under the dominance of instincts of feeding, nesting or brooding, behave as if they are indifferent to all kinds of tumult. Living creatures of many kinds are not in the least impressed by sounds which have no interest for them. To terrific disturbances, which have neither inherited nor acquired "meaning," an accurately sensitive organism may remain quite indifferent.

But another point is raised, says Nature, by some observations which refer to the diverse ways in which sheep and cows react to dummy bombs released from an airplane. The cows seem entirely indifferent to the "swish" of the falling bomb, but the sheep "invariably scatter in panic."

Have the cows a different—more placid—temperament? But how excited they get at times by the buzzing of flies that cannot hurt them. The excitement is probably due to fallacious association with the buzzing of blood-sucking flies which can hurt them; and the suggestion is that sheep are panic-stricken because the swish of a falling bomb is probably not unlike the sound of a bird of prey, say a golden eagle.

Wolsey's Disinfectant. Whenever Cardinal Wolsey granted an audience to the people, or whenever he went anywhere where he was apt to have to mingle with a crowd, he carried an orange that had been especially prepared for him by removing the pulp and putting a sponge soaked with disinfectant and sweet smelling spices inside it.

ship menu. But it is hard lines on a "baby" train aboard ship that day, as he can never have another birthday unless he journeys across the line when February 29 becomes February 30.

The Way of the Fool. A fool is one who goes through life with his eyes open, but sees not the things his eyes were intended to see. Instead of passing to one side of trouble, he bumps into it, runs headlong into brambles and gets stuck in life.

And sometimes he walks right into the arms of fortune or happens to be Johnny on the spot when favors are being distributed. But his streaks of luck are so thin as compared with the thickness of his worries and disappointments that they seem to be hardly worth considering.

And Then They Worked Hard. It takes two men to give an elephant castle oil, the dose being 128 ounces. We have known it to take three women and two men to give a small boy castor oil, dose only one dram.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER

has been a household remedy all over the civilized world for more than half a century for constipation, intestinal troubles, torpid liver and the generally depressed feeling that accompanies such disorders. It is a most valuable remedy for indigestion or nervous dyspepsia and liver trouble, bringing on headache, coming up of food, palpitation of heart, and many other symptoms. A few doses of August Flower will relieve you. It is a gentle laxative. Ask your druggist. Sold in all civilized countries.—Adv.

Animal Diseases.

Animal diseases, such as hog cholera, the foot-and-mouth disease, etc., are costing the farmers and the general public an enormous sum each year, although agricultural leaders have been waging an effective fight upon such epidemics. Ultimately the farmers will be enjoying the use of about $200,000,000 which they now lose each year through these causes.

Really Had Something Coming.

But recently dined in one of the smartest hotels in the city of Dublin, selecting the best of all that was good and expensive on the menu, and then he prepared to leave.

"Shall I bring you your bill, sir?" asked the waiter, putting himself in the way.

"Begob, an' ye needn't," returned our hero. "I intended payin' with the pearl I expected to find in the oysters, but had luck to the wan could I find in them at all. So ye may go to the devil," and he moodily passed out.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my housework and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. FRANK FITZGERALD, 22 N. 41st Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

Gasp at Yank Gallantry.

The following passage is quoted from an article about the soldiers of the American army of occupation in a Co-blenz paper:

"These gentlemen from abroad... stand up in the crowded electric cars and offer their seats to any woman, even though they be peasant girls! This is a custom that surprises us, habituated as we are to the rough ways of war time, like a memory from the ancient past. They make way for ladies on the sidewalk and step aside to let them enter the shops first. Indeed, the ladies in Co-blenz have been much astonished at the excessive gallantry of the Yankees."

Not the Same One. "Can I have leave to visit my wife, sir?" asked Pat of his ship's officer, as they dropped anchor in Dublin bay recently.

"To visit your wife?" thundered the officer. "What the devil are you up to now? Were you not granted leave ten or eleven days ago to bury your wife?"

"Yes, sir, and I did bury her," replied our hero. "But that was the wan belongin' to the last port we wor in, sir."

The best friend you have on earth is a better friend to himself than he is to you.

They Didn't.

Mary Ellen had received several Easter presents—the latest of which was a new hat. With all the wisdom of a three-year-old she looked at the auntie who had presented it, and purred. "I love Aunt Grace."

Aunt Ruth looked up from her book. "Then I guess I'll take that new dress I bought you back and give it to Virginia," she threatened.

For a minute Mary Ellen was troubled. Then relief came to her face. "I love you, too, Aunt Ruth," she purred again, "and everybody else who got me something. Now," wisely, "I guess nobody will take my fangs back."

Co-operation. Elizabeth must have heard someone talking about "co-operation." She doesn't like to have her hair curled, which her mother curls around her finger, and it takes a long time and "pulls" like the mischief.

However, Elizabeth often blinks back the tears. One day she said: "Mother, do you know people ought to co-operate in everything they do? Even when it comes to making curries, you and I ought to co-operate, oughtn't we, mother?"

She was certainly doing her best, and mother was, too.

Active Age Proves Real Quality

Like warriors grown gray in harness, and white-haired employees still on the job, a scuffed and scarred set of Silvertown Cords on an ancient car somehow best tells the story of the matchless service of these patrician tires.

The graceful, well-groomed elegance, with which they when new adorn smart cars, may be shabby; their tough tread worn smooth; but their distinction remains.

Once a Silvertown always a Silvertown. You know them, old or new, for aristocrats.

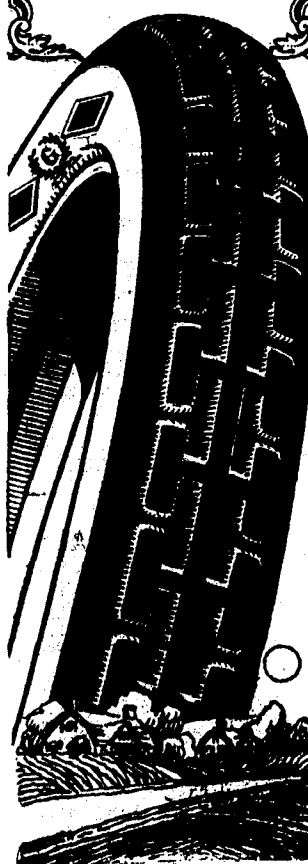

In their age, you read the history of their wonderful endurance; their useful career of miles and miles of road roughing.

You always get the long mileage of a ripe old age to round out the youthful beauty of the tires with the Twin Red Diamonds on the sidewall.

the act of Congress of March 3, 1879

GRAYLING, THURSDAY, MAY 22.

WE just want to say a word at this Decoration day season about the care of our cemeteries. In looking about we find now and then a neatly kept cemetery lot, all nicely sodded, borders trimmed and graves kept up in good condition. And while this is true in some cases there are others that are not so well cared for and many are allowed to run riot and in disorder. And sometimes the cemeteries themselves are not what they should be.

These latter conditions are not quite in keeping with the esteem we hold for some of our loved ones that now rest in these places. Our cemeteries should have the best of care and attention and be kept a place of beauty and attraction. Clean yards and carefully cared for lots should be the pride of all.

WE live our lives with our families and among our friends and while there is nothing too good, but after death creeps in and steals some of our most faithful ones, their graves are too often forgotten. This is not fair, and we hope to see before another year rolls around that our cemeteries are given more care, and the final resting places of our loved ones and friends are made more attractive and beautiful.

MISS LEAH HODGES PASSES AWAY.

Miss Leah Hodges died Friday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Mathews. Miss Hodges had been an invalid for years, and last winter was sick with influenza, from which she never fully recovered, a nervous breakdown having developed. Miss Hodges was born in Wayne county, August 1st, 1882. For the last several years, she lived with her mother in West Branch, and about two weeks before her death, she came to Grayling to live with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Mathews, hoping to recover her health.

The funeral was held at the Mathews home Monday morning at nine o'clock and interment was at Richfield cemetery in Roscommon. Rev. Copeland of West Branch conducted the services.

Do You Best.

Everyone should do all he can to provide for his family and in order to do this he must keep his physical system in the best condition possible. No one can reasonably hope to do much when he is half sick to a good share of the time. If you are constipated, bilious or troubled with indigestion get a package of Chamberlain's Tablets and follow the plain printed directions, and you will soon be feeling alright and able to do a day's work.

Suggestion for a Camping Trip.
Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home. As a rule it cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamships and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you.

Mrs. Wm. Feldhauser of Maple Forest was in our city Friday and Saturday and while here stated that she believed that she had received the highest price for a crock of butter, that any one here ever received. $1.00 a pound. This price she got in Gaylord. Mrs. F. seems to be growing enough to get the long price for her farm products, but perhaps when the quality is considered the price was not too high. She sure does make fine butter and is deserving of a better price than the regular market figure.

About Rheumatism.
People are learning that it is only a waste of time and money to take medicine internally for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and about ninety-nine out of a hundred cases are one or the other of these varieties. All that is really necessary to afford relief is to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. Try it. It costs but 35 cents per bottle. Large size 80 cents.

THE COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

At the Community Meetings held at Frederic last Wednesday evening, that Community was organized in the Crawford County Farm Bureau taking on only the projects of Organization and Grasshopper control. As chairman of the Community committee and in charge of the Organization project Geo. C. Thomas was selected, while in charge of the Grasshopper control project F. A. Goshorn was named committeeman.

Maple Forest Community was organized in the Farm Bureau work last Thursday, a goodly number of the most representative farmers meeting in the afternoon for that purpose. The following Community committee was appointed:

Organization—Chairman, Jas. F. Knibbs. Grasshopper Control—Committee man, John Malco. Rural mail service—C. C. Hill.

A meeting was held for the afternoon of June 21st to be held at the Edmonds School, at which time it is expected that a good program will be taken up and some more projects taken on by this Community. Better livestock and a campaign for more silos seem to be in the minds of some of those present. It is well that all hands think it over between now and then and see if some affirmative action cannot be taken at that time. Everybody should also keep their eye on the grasshopper situation and be ready to respond to the call of John Malco, who has charge of this project.

At the Community meeting held at the Royce School in South Branch Saturday night, the County Agent presented the Grasshopper situation, and the project of control of this pest was taken on.

Owing to the size of this Community two committeemen were appointed to take charge of the work in their respective localities viz D. Earl Smith and John Corwin.

The County Agent met with the Directors of the Grayling Board of Trade last Monday night relative to the County Agent's Conference to be held there on July 17 and 18. The Secretary of the Board had already secured an order from the Quartermaster General of the State allowing the use of the Military Grounds for the purpose of the Field Day Exercises to be held on the 18th. The directors pledged their enthusiastic support to the project.

A meeting of the Executive committees of the Farm Bureaus of Crawford and Roscommon Counties has been called for the following dates. Crawford County to meet at Grayling on Saturday, May 24th at 3 o'clock p. m. at the Court House.

Roscommon County to meet on Friday May 23rd, at 3 o'clock p. m. at the Opera House or new Community hall, Roscommon.

The matter of a joint Farm Bureau picnic at the Hanson Military Reservation on July 18th during the meeting of the County Agents for the Northern District of Michigan will be taken up, also several other matters of importance to the agricultural interests of these counties.

The Rural Russet seed for the Potato Standardization demonstrations being put on in these counties has been practically all distributed, and it is expected that from this small start the potatoes of Crawford and Roscommon Counties will become lined up with that of the best potato growing sections of the state within the next two seasons.

Upper Peninsula farmers are getting stirred up over the matter of co-operative marketing. All the County Agents from that part of the State recently came down to a conference at Kalkaska to meet Mr. Dorr B. Buell, President of the Michigan Potato Growers exchange, and have him explain the working of the system. The farmers up there want a change in marketing and their county agents are getting ready to help them.

So far this season the Potato exchange has sold about 20% of the Michigan Potato crop, or 1800 cars. The following figures are worth studying.

This year the dealers received $2.02 for potatoes that cost them $1.85. Last year at the same date they received $1.00 for potatoes that cost them 60 cents. Taking out the warehouse charge of 10 cents per hundred the net profit for dealers this year is 4%. Last year it was 5%. What caused the difference? Have the dealers had a change of heart?

The eighth grade examination will be held May 28 and 29. The examination in reading will be based on "Columbus" published as bulletin No. 27, which bulletin may be secured from the County Commissioner. The examination will be held in the high school buildings in Grayling and Frederic.

CRAWFORD COUNTY IS ORGANIZED FOR SALVATION ARMY HOME SERVICE FUND CAMPAIGN.

Crawford county has been organized for the Salvation Army National Home Service Fund drive, during the week of May 19-26 by the selection of Holger F. Peterson chairman, A. W. Lewis as Secretary, M. Hanson as Treasurer, Bank of Grayling as Local depository, Emil Kraus as Projects chairman, O. P. Schumann as Publicity chairman, T. P. Peterson as Speaker's Chairman, Ed. Behlke as Transportation chairman, Mrs. Stanley N. Insley as Woman's chairman.

The nation-wide drive is for $13,000,000 of which Michigan's quota is approximately half million. Crawford's share is $500. The story of the Salvation Army service overseas is not new to Crawford home folks. Their sons who have fought in France have written or told again and again of the needs of this organization's activities in humanity's cause. The "Army's" record at home is as a story that has often been told and the fact that the fund that is to be raised during the campaign will be used for carrying on the after-war reconstruction program of the Salvation Army, will unquestionably meet with a generous response from Crawford county.

The work of the Salvation Army and the purpose for which the Home Service drive is to be carried on have been endorsed by General Pershing, Cardinal Gibbons and members of national repute. David Lloyd George, the country's leading Elks, Rotarians and other fraternal organization heads.

Within a few days the campaign posters, streamers, telephone shield, etc., will appear on Crawford county's store windows and telephones, so that with the exception of a few minor details Crawford county is set and ready to go.

To the Editor of Detroit News: When our country was threatened we gladly gave up our positions and went to defend it. We did our duty faithfully and are reaping a reward of bitter disappointment.

I am speaking for a group of men who volunteered when our President declared war, and who have taken part in real battles, as some of us did in the Old Hickory Division, believing that in the end we would find ourselves freer and happier men.

But just as we were looking forward to the day which would see us back in the homes we love, we were transferred, at the last moment without the least provocation and against every protest, to the embarkation service at Saint-Nazaire.

Where are the men who came over in the service of supplies? They have gone home. Where are those who complain that have not been given an opportunity to fight because we finished the scrape before they could get over? They have gone home.

And we feel that we are being made the objects of a policy, the injustice of which ripples our intelligence. The organization of various units to stay in France, composed chiefly of men guilty of military offences, has been given wide advertisement in the States. Any attempt on our part when we are returned home, to explain to our people and employers that we were transferred out of our divisions with which we had trained and fought for many months, without having committed any offence, will be met with a stab of suspicion.

TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Grayling People Have.

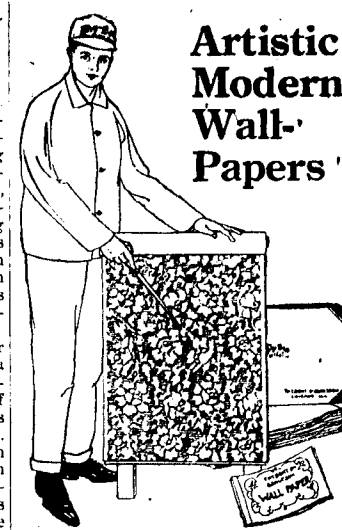

If you neglect kidney backache, Urinary troubles often follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney backache, and for other kidney ills. Grayling citizens endorse them.

Niels H. Nielsen, carpenter, Park St., says: I had trouble with my back kidneys for several years. My back ached constantly and was so stiff I could hardly bend over. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Lewis' Drug Store, and they did me more good than anything else I had ever used. They always rid me of an attack in a short time.

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Nielsen had. Foster Milburn Co., mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

As a general rule all you need to do is to adopt a diet suited to your age and occupation and to keep your bowels regular. When you feel that you have eaten too much and when constipation, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
